

1,200 COUNTY SERVICE MEN MARCH AMID CHEERS OF THROING

CONNELLVILLE HAPPY OVER SUCCESS OF HOME-COMING CELEBRATION'S BIGGEST EVENT; 6,000 TO 7,000 PERSONS IN MILITARY PARADE

Ambition of Home Folks to See Doughboys in Uniform is Finally Realized; Wounded Men in Automobiles Come in For Much Applause; Labor and Fraternal Organizations Have Big Representations.

PAGEANT NEVER SURPASSED HERE, THE VERDICT

Connellsville was happy yesterday afternoon. That part of Fayette county outside the city limits which was represented in the thousands upon thousands which thronged the streets for the closing event of the Fayette County Home-Coming celebration—the military parade—was in like mood. The people were given the opportunity of seeing what they had fondly desired and hoped to see—the doughboys of the region on parade.

Responding in much larger numbers than had been anticipated, from a thousand to 1,200 of the boys who fought overseas or who were in the service here and ready and willing to do their share across the Atlantic marched through the streets in the greatest military review in the annals of Connellsville; the largest in Fayette county. The periods of the wars of the past witnessed nothing to equal the lines of men in olive drab who braved the sweltering heat in their service uniforms.

They were a part of a parade which certainly has not been surpassed in numbers or features. Estimates place the total number in line at 6,000 to 7,000. Some ran much higher, few lower. It was an inspiring scene—one that will not be forgotten.

From the starting point on the West Side, all along the route to the extreme of the South Side and to the place of demobilization in the North End the streets were packed with happy, cheering throngs of people from all parts of Southwestern Pennsylvania, gathered principally to see the boys in khaki.

There were other features—scores of them. There were other marchers by the thousand but few as was their appearance and as valuable as their assistance in making up the whole they were second to the gallant service men of the Army and Navy and to the one service woman in the line, Miss Irene Holland, an overseas nurse.

All did not march. Some unable because of unhealed wounds to withstand the heat and the exertion rode automobiles and received their full share of the plaudits of the crowd.

While there were band concerts later in the day and athletic events at Fayette Field, the parade brought to a close for the majority of the people the home-coming celebration. That it was a success none will deny. Never have been seen here two parades that surpassed that of the women of the Red Cross Tuesday and the military day pageant.

Today and tomorrow the firemen hold sway and then Connellsville will be ready to settle down to the more nearly normal days of before the war, the celebration capping the climax of the many events of the last two years.

As to the other features of the parade, those of the labor organizations, under the auspices of the local trades council; the great showing of the mining and coke making plants of the vicinity and the fraternal organizations were the leading ones. There are many who will say that the event as a whole eclipsed the grand parade of the centennial in 1906.

There was some delay in starting. It was 2:30 when the advance guard moved across the Crawford avenue bridge from the West Side where the several divisions were mobilized.

Company D and the Medical Detachment of the 10th, by reason of their being the only units of the service having headquarters here, were given the position of honor with Major Robert S. McKee, the ranking officer, at the head. Members of the 8th Division marched in a body. With the remaining ones it was necessary to group them together, there being, as a rule not enough to form a unit.

Part of the distance the doughboys marched in squads of four, the remainder of the way in platoon formation. All were in service uniforms. Under the scorching heat it was a trying march but they smiled through it all.

Leading the parade marched a column of police headed by Chief Bowers and Lieutenant Thomas McDonald. Preceding them rode state constables to see that the streets were clear.

Chief Marshal J. L. Evans was followed by the aides, W. O. Adams, F. Bufano, Harry Dull and J. L. Stader, with whom rode his son, Leo, C. B. Franks, H. B. Brown and Grant Dull, aides, also were in line.

Acting Mayor R. W. Hoover and members of city council were in automobiles. Following them came nine automobiles bearing veterans of the Civil War and wounded soldiers of the World War.

The honor position among the musicians fell to the 10th Infantry band, with Director Don M. Kimmell leading. The band received ovations all along the way.

Then came another automobile with disabled World War veterans. Major Robert S. McKee marched at the head of Company D and the Medical Detachment, immediately followed

MAINTENANCE OF NEW ORDER MAKES LEAGUE NECESSARY

President Tells Senate It Is Indispensable to Peace of the World.

GALLERIES APPLAUD HIM

Visitors to the Capital Disregard the Rules and Cheer Chief Executive For Minute After He Enters; Applause Punctuated With Rebel Yell

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Wilson shortly after noon today presented to the Senate the peace treaty and the League of Nations, personally appearing and addressing that body. When the President entered the Senate chamber, escorted by a committee of senators, the crowded galleries rose and cheered for a minute in disregard of the Senate rules. The President, mounting to the vice president's seat, spoke briefly with Vice President Marshall as the cheering continued, punctuated with "rebel yells."

The President said that he was availing himself of the first opportunity to lay the treaty before the Senate for its ratification since its signature at Versailles on June 28. "The treaty constitutes nothing less than a world settlement," the President said, "and it would not be possible for me either to summarize or to construe its manifold provisions in an address. My services and all the information I possess will be at your disposal and at the disposal of your committee on foreign relations. I shall at this time attempt only a general characterization of its scope and purposes."

The President declared that a league of free nations had become a practical necessity to which the framers of the treaty felt obliged to turn as an indispensable instrumentality for the maintenance of the new order it had been their purpose to set up in the world. The most skeptical of the peace conferees at Paris, the President continued, had turned more and more to the league as discussion progressed in seeking solution of problems that arose in framing the terms of the treaty itself. The fact that the covenant of the league was the first substantive part of the treaty to be worked out and agreed upon, the President said, while all else was in solution helped to make the formulation of the rest easier. Mr. Wilson said agreement on the covenant had given the conferees a feeling that their work was to be permanent and that the most practical among them at last were the most ready to refer to the League of Nations, the superintendence of all interests which did not admit of immediate determination.

"What has seemed a council of perfection," said the President, "has come to seem a plain council of necessity. The League of Nations was the practical statesmen's hope of success in many of the most difficult things he was attempting."

It was made clear that the President felt troops should be maintained in Germany until the Germans have complied with all the military terms of the treaty. It was pointed out that there were several million veteran soldiers in Germany and munitions sufficient for them to operate. The President also indicated that he felt relations between Germany and the associated nations should be resumed at the earliest moment possible, for without later Germany would not meet the reparation demanded of her.

The President made it clear that demobilization of the American army would depend upon the speed with which the military conditions of the peace treaty were executed by Germany and the treaty was ratified by the various governments.

Little other business was transacted. The contract for painting the exterior of the Second ward building was let to W. F. Storey. This is to be done before the next term opens.

The board also determined to give the principals of the various schools the privilege of making the census of the school children in their wards, and adopted a schedule of rates for rental of the high school auditorium.

RE-ELECT OFFICERS

School Board Makes No Change in Treasurer and Secretary.

Omer Wood was re-elected treasurer and Miss Katharine McKewitt secretary of the Connellsville school board at a meeting of that body held this morning.

Little other business was transacted. The contract for painting the exterior of the Second ward building was let to W. F. Storey. This is to be done before the next term opens.

Almost 300 soldier boys were registered at the Knights of Columbus headquarters in the Title & Trust building Wednesday for dinner and supper which was served by the daughters of Isabella under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. Cigarettes, candy and cold drinks were distributed before and after the parade.

M. J. Slattery and Edward Gannon, both K. of C. secretaries of Pittsburgh, who took charge of the K. of C. distribution during the parade, entertained all present by relating some of their experiences in France, Germany and Italy, having returned a week ago from Rome.

WORK OF FOREIGN ELEMENT IN WAR IS EXTOLLED BY TABOR

Eloquent Tribute Paid to the 'Allen' Born by Pittsburgh Attorney in Celebration Address.

Taking for his subject "Americanism," Attorney Edward O. Tabor of Pittsburgh addressed a great audience yesterday afternoon at the Carnegie Library lawn in closing the speaking program of the celebration. The speaker paid tribute to the foreign element of Fayette county and the nation in general, referring to the splendid qualities of these men developed during the war.

"They dug our coal, they made our coke, they gave to our Red Cross. Side by side with the American born they marched to Belgium and France and there in true American style, they pushed the Kaiser and the Hapsburgs to their knees and made them beg for peace."

Mr. Tabor is connected with the Council of National Defense, Pennsylvania. He has been practicing law in Pittsburgh but will in the future be located in Uniontown. Attorney Tabor's speech will be found on another page of The Courier.

75,000 PEOPLE IN CITY DURING FOUR DAY CELEBRATION

Factory Inspector James S. Darr, member of the emergency safety department, who was in close and constant touch with the crowds that thronged the city during the four days of the celebration, estimates that 75,000 people were on the streets of Connellsville during that period.

This estimate is based on the number of persons who can occupy a certain area of ground, such as 100 square feet, and includes those who took part in the parades and were in attendance at the pageant.

NO ACCIDENTS

Two Cases Yesterday But One Is Slight Other Drunk.

Organized efforts directed toward the prevention of avoidable accidents got results during the home-coming celebration. Not an accident was reported during the four days, according to the safety committee.

James Peacock of Wall, Pa., who was admitted to the hospital for treatment, it was learned today, was a sick case. He fell on the sidewalk near the Columbia hotel and was hurried to the hospital. A call came in to the committee headquarters about 7 o'clock last night but this case proved to be nothing but a plain drunk, the hospital authorities declared.

Credit for the no-accident record goes to the safety committee composed of Acting Director of Public Safety, C. G. Brehm, of Uniontown; State Factory Inspector J. S. Darr, J. E. Struble, the Boy Scouts, firemen and police.

PICKPOCKETS PLY TRADE AS CROWDS WATCH THE PARADE

Three Suspects Arrested But Are Released on Payment of $50 Forfeits.

ONE GANG WORKS OPENLY

Go Through People at Brimstone Corner and Throw Pocketbooks in Alley Back of New Stag Hotel; Watchers Find Heap of Purses in Window.

Pickpockets—mean thieves who robbed folks while they were honoring returned service men—operated extensively in the crowds here yesterday and although three suspects were picked up by the police all are at large today, having been released upon posting of $50 forfeits. There was not sufficient evidence to hold any of them, the police say.

The dips were not very slick. Two city men spotted a gang of about five operating on the west side of Pittsburgh street at Brimstone corner. Two of them would jostle a prospective victim in the jam of people while a third would go through his pockets. Then they would make a trip to Church place, evidently to examine their haul in a little alley back of the New Stag hotel. On reappearing the gang would present a changed appearance, accomplished by trading hats or coats. The watchers waited the alley immediately after the dips had left and found a pile of purses and pocketbooks in a cellar window. One of these had cards in bearing the name of J. H. Risbeck, formerly of Connellsville, now supreme dictator of the Moose.

Various members of the police force were notified and Special Patrolman Andy Gekker was shown members of the gang. He arrested two as they were in the act of "rolling" a man in the St. James bar. They gave their names as Smith and O'Donovan and said they did not know each other although the patrolman had seen them talking a few minutes before. They were later released upon payment of $50 forfeits, when about 20 men who claimed to have been robbed failed to identify them positively.

One other suspect was arrested by Patrolman Ritchie on the West Side. He gave his name as J. H. Hall of East Liverpool, Ohio. He also was released upon payment of $50 forfeit. The men arrested by Patrolman Gekker had big sums of money on them, a lot of it in small change. Smith had over $200.

Five men accused of lifting pocket books were arrested in the afternoon by Special officers Jake McGee of the West Penn and John DeTemple of the Pennsylvania railroad. They gave their names as Gus Getto, Frank DeFazio and Sam Stein, of New York; Jacob Huczie and George Roberts of Pittsburgh. They are now confined in the county jail.

WOMEN PROVIDE COLD DRINKS FOR MEN IN THE MILITARY PARADE

They Were Thirsty Themselves on Tuesday, So They Are Kind to Other Marchers.

South Side women who paraded on Women's Day provided ice water and lemonade for those who marched in the big military pageant yesterday afternoon. They said they got pretty thirsty themselves on Tuesday and knew from actual experience just how the service men and others in line would appreciate cold drinks. Buckets and pans of water with cakes of ice in them, and in one case lemonade, were placed along the route. As the parade stopped from time to time, the marchers were invited to help themselves. Much surprised, but nevertheless appreciative, they did, and were refreshed for the rest of the hike.

"I know how hot much water meant to you on your long hikes in France," said one of the good Samaritans as she served some soldiers.

MILITARY DAY ATTENDANCE IS LARGEST HERE

Crowds for the Parade Yesterday Afternoon Exceeded Centennial's Traffic Men Say.

Judged by the traffic reports Wednesday's influx of visitors into Connellsville for the military parade and the other events of the occasion was the greatest in the city's history, exceeding the main day of the centennial celebration of 1906. The West Penn Railway company alone handled between 10,000 and 15,000 individuals, the exact figures being unavailable at this time. This meant that number of visitors brought into the city and the same number returned to their homes.

Others thousands came in by automobiles and the railway trails. Worthy of note is the fact that in the handling of this multitude there was not an accident. This is attributed in large measure by a railway official to the absence of intoxicants. The unruly element was missing. Everything went smoothly as clockwork.

The rush to Connellsville over the West Penn extended as far as Mount Pleasant, Fairchance and Brownsville, but the bulk of the travel with in the line defined by Lemont, Philips, Vanderbilt, Dawson and Scottdale. Fifteen carloads came from Scottdale and vicinity alone.

Every car the West Penn owned and every conductor and motorman was on duty. Many worked hours over time. The company maintained a commissary in the building here and as the men passed through sandwiches were passed to them and they continued, working without rest until the people were safely home.

Besides the crowds here the West Penn was confronted with the task of handling those attending the circus at Greensburg.

GEN. GUGLIELMOTTI GUEST OF HONOR AT A PRIVATE DINNER

Pleased With Reception Here; Pays Visit to Mrs. Duggan as Mark of Respect to City's Chief Executive.

Major General Emilio Guglielmotti, the Italian war hero who delivered one of the principal addresses yesterday morning, and later took part in the military parade, was the guest of honor at a private dinner given by local members of the Sons of Italy last evening at the home of R. DeAngelis at 1009 Vine street.

Tacite present were: Joseph Di Silvestro, Philadelphia, grand master of the Sons of Italy in America for the State of Pennsylvania; Antonio Clandone, Antonio Certo and Garibaldi Fabiani of Pittsburgh; Ralph Scalia, Uniontown; D. Di Gregorio, Republic; M. G. Bufano, Morgantown; W. Va.; A. Planto, Greensburg; Lieutenant Herbert Duggan, E. R. Floto, A. Trovati, P. Bufano and R. DeAngelis, Connellsville.

General Guglielmotti expressed himself as most highly pleased with his reception in Connellsville and as having derived much enjoyment from meeting so many Americans, both native and Italian-born.

Prior to his departure for Washington this morning he paid a visit to Mrs. John Duggan, as a mark of respect to the city's chief executive, now confined in a Pittsburgh hospital.

SOMETHING NEW IN THIEVING; POLICE DOCKET IS STOLEN

July Book Taken From City Hall and Left Torn From the Constable's Record.

With pickpockets doing a good business in grabbing pocketbooks and other petty robberies being committed, the most peculiar theft of all was the stealing of the July police docket from the city hall some time during the night. The record was missing this morning and it was necessary to get out a new book.

What could have been the idea of stealing the docket is not plain to the police. In addition to taking the records, which are for the first nine days of July only, the thief also tore from the constable's docket the one sheet that had arrests made this month recorded.

Although the July docket is gone the records are still intact and were written into another book this morning by Patrolman Bulli, who has a private record of all arrests.

ODD FELLOWS FEAST

General Worth Lodge Host to 250 at Home in East Crawford Avenue.

Nearly 250 persons were luncheon and entertained by General Worth Lodge of Odd Fellows at the hall in East Crawford avenue yesterday afternoon, among them being the members of the Jeannette band and the uniformed rank from Mount Pleasant.

The service was by the Rebekahs.

RAIN FAILS TO PUT DAMPER ON FIREMEN'S DAY

Arrival of Many Bands and Apparatus Gives Indication of Big Parade.

MANY EVENTS ON PROGRAM

Water Battles, Drills and Races Take Place During Day; Turtle Creek Teams in Hose Lumbardment; Trains and Trolleys Bring Many.

Rain this morning failed to put any damper on the spirits of the Western Pennsylvania firemen, whose "big day" was scheduled for today. Trains, trolleys and automobiles brought hundreds of visitors to participate or view the parade, scheduled for 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Fire apparatus from a number of towns was on hand early, the trucks having been driven here by their crews.

The Rankin department arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, bringing with them their own band. The Irwin company came in at 10:30 o'clock on a special street car. With them came the Irwin Capital Fire Company band. Although the parade committee had many companies and equipment listed to take part in the procession the additional arrivals indicated it would be much larger than expected. Two o'clock was the hour set for the start.

The route follows: Form on the South Side, the right of the line resting on Morton avenue. North on Pittsburgh street to Fayette street, east on Fayette to McCormick street, north on McCormick to Pittsburgh, south on Pittsburgh to Gibson, to Johnston, south on Johnston to Fayette to Pittsburgh and south on Pittsburgh to Crawford avenue, west on Crawford to Sixth, north on Sixth to Meason, west to Eighth, south on Eighth to Crawford, west on Crawford on Ninth, south on Ninth to Morris and disband. Chief William E. DeBolt was to be marshal.

Today is the "big day" of the convention. The greatest number of visitors are always present on parade day and although the greater number remain on Friday, many return home. Tomorrow will mark the close of the convention and Saturday will be occupied in breaking camps and returning home.

The water battle yesterday afternoon was fought between two Turtle Creek teams. Natrons had been scheduled to appear against the Turtle Creek aggregation, but for some reason did not show up. Rather than disappoint the crowd of spectators gathered to witness the battle, a second Turtle Creek team was made up and the fight staged. Another water battle comes off this evening at 6 o'clock in Johnston avenue. The champion water battle is scheduled for tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock.

The annual firemen's drill takes place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Seventh street, West Side. Several companies will participate.

The annual ball, held last night at the armory, was largely attended by the visitors and was a huge success.

REAL, LIVE BOY

Not many recognized in the arms of Mrs. J. A. Dougherty, impersonating the "Greatest Mother in the World" on a float in the military parade, also in the Red Cross parade Tuesday, a real live boy. The average person thought it a doll. It was not a dummy. It was Jack Lambert, Jr., 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lambert.

Through the entire parade yesterday Jack lay still as an inanimate figure, scarcely opening his eyes. He represented the wounded soldier being cared for by the Red Cross.

GAMBLERS ARRESTED

Four Picked Up at Carnival Par Forfeits Amounting to $55.

Four men were arrested at the carnival last night for gambling. The arrests were made by Deputy Sheriff Meegan. One man paid a $25 forfeit and three others paid $10 each.

It was reported this morning that a man had started operating a candy wheel in Crawford avenue last night and also that one was in operation at Fourth street, West Side. These will be investigated today and arrests may follow. The city police have been notified again by Acting Mayor Hoover to allow no gambling whatever.

COP SUSPENDED

Patrolman Turner to Answer for Conduct at Fayette Field.

For his conduct at Fayette Field during the male boxing match contests staged there yesterday Patrolman D. H. Turner was this morning suspended by Acting Mayor Roy W. Hoover. He will be given a hearing before council.

The officer, although not on duty, was in uniform, and made himself conspicuous before the crowd by exclaiming to arrest one of them "for saying things about the police." This started the crowd to "kidding" and the officer grabbed a visiting reporter from the press stand. He got the wrong man but would not listen to reason and refused to allow the man to take his seat. Chief Bowers and Patrolmen Shipley and Barnes interfered and took Turner away.

Patrolman Barnes, one of the extra police, was also suspended by Acting Mayor Hoover for being drunk. Barnes' suspension however, will not necessitate a hearing before council as he would have completed his time today. All the extra police handed in their time at the close of the celebration.

It is stated by the United States District Attorney Crawford that other brewers operating and selling since July 1 will be prosecuted and that retailers cannot expect immunity because action has first been taken against the wholesalers.

Cameraman Charles H. Balsley secured about 800 feet of motion pictures of the parade yesterday. He also filmed the parade on Tuesday. Owing to darkness falling the pageant that evening was not photographed, but other features of the celebration were preserved by his camera.

Ten seconds more of reeling and Mr. Balsley would have been out of film for the Britton-Doty fight. The sudden ending of the bout with a knockout by Britton in the second round enabled him to get it all.

When Navy Coal Bids Fall Short of Needs; Threatens to Commandeer.

Because coal operators failed to bid on sufficient tonnage to cover the navy's coal requirements for the year beginning July 1, Secretary Daniels has announced he will commandeer coal needed, at "prices which are in keeping with the lowest bids received for high-grade coal under the schedule recently published."

The tonnage offered was less than one-half and one-third, respectively, that required at those principal points of supply. Coal operators say the form of the proposed contract with the navy was largely responsible for their failures to bid.

SERENADE BY BAND.

City Musicians Play "Alcoholic Blues" at Courier Office.

The Connelville Military Band serenaded The Courier this afternoon, playing "Johnny's in Town" and "The Alcoholic Blues" for the dedication of the paper's force. Just why the prohibition number was played is not plain, unless it was for the printers.

A vote of thanks was tendered Director Gaster and his musicians and if they had waited long enough Foreman McCormick was going to make a speech.

Mt. Pleasant Man Speaker. John C. Haberlin of Mount Pleasant, was the principal speaker last evening at the annual convention of the Lutheran League of the Greensburg district held at Salem Lutheran church at Delmont yesterday. He spoke on "The Soldier in Christian Service."

Don Kimmell's Musicians Most Popular During Stay Here.

The 110th Infantry band has gone from the midst, after a three-day engagement, leaving behind a host of friends. Lieutenant Don Kimmell's musicians were in demand all the time with their excellent music. Last evening's closing concert at the Elk's Home drew a large audience. The crowd could not get enough of the vocal selections by a quartet of the bandmen.

The band returned home this morning.

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Charles H. Fletcher

MISS WALSH TO SPEAK

Overseas Nurse Will Talk at Chautauqua on Community Nurse.

Miss Elizabeth H. Walsh, a returned overseas nurse will be the speaker at the Connelville Chautauqua Friday afternoon. Miss Walsh's theme is the "Public Health Nurse and Community Nursing." This is an activity that is a part of the future policy of the Red Cross in Fayette county and these two meetings should be well attended, particularly by those interested in public health nursing.

The community nurse is one of the best agencies for the protection of life and health and when the influenza epidemic swept across the country many a community awakened too late to its unpreparedness and discovered that it had no public health nurse to help fight its battles against the invading hosts of disease.

The community nurse cares for the sick, protects the well and teaches the principles of good health to all. She watches over the expectant mother, and advises her in those matters which contribute to her comfort and safety, and which promise "sound mind and limb" to the little newcomer. She cares for the sick in her community, bringing trained skill and gentle, deft hands to supplement the doctor's knowledge and the family's devotion. She is the guardian of all babies. She is the defender of all school children in her community. By periodical inspection, she protects the well from the sick, and checks the spread of contagious diseases. She also detects any faults in physical development. She organizes the boys and girls of her neighborhood into health and hygiene leagues, and bestows upon them two priceless gifts—a knowledge of the laws of health, and good hygienic habits. They learn to value and protect that birthright of every child, a sound, clean and strong body.

SERVICE MEN HAVE GIVEN US NEW CAUSE TO BE PROUD OF AMERICA, HON. E. O. TABOR SAYS

In a stirring address this afternoon, preceding the military parade, yesterday, Hon. Edward O. Tabor of Pittsburgh declared that the war has resulted in real Americanization. The soldiers, sailors and marines have given us new cause for rejoicing, he declared, and made it a greater privilege to say "America is my country and my home."

Mr. Tabor's speech follows:

"Mr. Chairman, honored and distinguished guests, soldiers of Fayette County and America and friends:

Perhaps no gathering in this country has ever been more representative of the real America than this gathering in Conneltsville, here, today. This is a genuine American audience. Some of you men and women were born in the United States; others of you were not. Some of you come from Italy; some from Poland; some from Russia; some from Greece or Serbia or Croatia—and a great many of you come from the land of the Czech-Slovaks. But today you are not Russians, or Poles or Serbians; you are not Greeks or Italians—you are not Czech-Slovaks. Today—today, you are Americans. America gives you a home; America gives you bread; America gives you and your children schools and education. America gives you liberty. And for that great reason you are Americans. So are we all! And as Americans we have gathered here today to greet and honor the American soldiers who have returned with victory from France! With American hearts and with American voices we say to you, soldiers of Fayette County: Welcome! Welcome, soldiers of America—Soldiers of God! We welcome you the more because you have taught us what America really means! You have given us new cause for rejoicing in our citizenship. You have made us feel how great our privilege is to be able to say: "America is my country and my home!"

"Ladies and Gentlemen this is REAL Americanization. We hear much these days about Americanization, and rightly so, for true sincere Americanization is one of the biggest problems that America faces today. Every state knows it; every teacher knows it; every public spirited citizen knows it; and one of the brightest jewels in the crown of our own distinguished Governor, Governor Spruill, is his genuine interest in this great work. America must make her thirteen million foreign born men and women genuine Americans—Americans in heart and mind and action—men who will love America and her ideals—men who will fight for America and die for America—and what is perhaps harder still, men who LIVE for America in peace, or in war.

"And when our population is really Americanized, the native as well as the foreign born, American Government and American civilization will be secure. We won't need to fear Bolshevism, or Anarchy or I. W. Wism or any other form of discontent. For Americanism means decency and fairness, and brotherhood and opportunity. And where these are, Bolshevism cannot and will not lift its head.

"Some people think that a person becomes an American when he gets his 'second papers,' but you know and I know that citizenship papers, alone, do not make an American. During the last war, which you Americans before me ended, there were thousands and thousands of men and women who had their citizenship papers who were no more Americans than the Kaiser or the hellish Hapsburgs. Many of them are in our Federal jails; many more, too cowardly to act in the open, are today secretly sneering at America's failure to find them out. Yes—and we know another thing: thousands and hundreds of thousands of our men and women, who did not have their citizenship papers were real true one hundred per cent Americans—because they lived for America, worked for America, gave for America, and died for America and her cause. I say they were real Americans, and I don't care where they come from—whether it was Russia or Poland or Italy—Serbia or Bohemia, or from the lovely mountains of Slovakia.

"Another mistake which many of us make, is to think that a person becomes an American when he learns to speak the English language. You know, and I know, that this is not true, for many of our most dangerous enemies were these detestable English speaking traitors who hid their cowardice behind their English speech. On the other hand thousands, yes millions of men and women in this country who could hardly speak a word of English were loyal and decent Americans, for their hearts beat for American principles and their heads and hands labored for American victory. In her need America turned to her Slovaks and Czechs and Italians and Russians and Poles and she found them loyal. Before the war we too often called them Hunkies and Dagoes and Damned Foreigners—because we didn't know the passion of their liberty loving hearts. But when the war came, we learned that it was these Dagoes and Hunkies and Damned Foreigners that made America strong and unconquerable and victorious, for it was they who gave these very soldiers their guns and ammunitions and ships and food. They dug our coal; they made our coke; they made our steel; they bought our bonds, and they gave to our Red Cross. Yes—and side by side with the American born, they marched to France and Belgium and there, in true American style they pushed the Kaiser and the Hapsburgs to their knees and made them beg for peace.

"I submit that our foreign born men and women were genuine Americans. Every time they dug a ton of Pennsylvania coal they sent a ton of black dynamite straight against the Kaiser's throne. Every time they turned out a load of coke from these Conneltsville ovens, they made of France a literal hell for every German who was there; and every time they hit a piece of steel in the mills of Pennsylvania they struck a blow straight on the helmet of the Kaiser, until on November 11th last, he threw up his hands and cried 'Kamerad,' and promised the American soldiers that he'd be good.

"That is the great fact that makes America wonderful. That was the great proof of real Americanization. 'Soldiers of America, we honor you! Soldiers of America we thank you. You have shown us how to be free, and yet strong; you have shown us how to be men. To you more than to any other one cause will we always be grateful, for you have told us what a glorious thing it is to say Webster:

"Thank God! I also am an American."

R. R. Fuel Nearly Doubles in Cost.
Coal consumed by American railroads in 1917, under ordinary conditions, have cost about $265,000,000, but owing to the severe winter and increased mine prices, the cost has $401,000,000, an increase of more than 50 per cent over the previous year.

INCREASING STRENGTH WITHOUT EXCITEMENT MARKS STEEL MARKET

Mill Operation Ranging 70 to 80 Per Cent of Full; Predictions as to Sharp Advances in Price.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

While the steel market exhibits nothing bordering on excitement it continues to grow in strength. The buying is widespread but not spectacular. There are few large orders, and not much by way of important construction projects has yet developed, but the trends are all favorable.

Steel mills are now operating at about 70 per cent, in point of ingot capacity, but several branches of the finished trade are operating at better rates than this. The butt weld departments of the pipe mills are practically all operating in full, some of them being practically sold up for the balance of the year. Sheet mill operations are at 80 per cent of capacity at least, and tin plate mills are doing better than that, although chiefly because of a last moment burst of demand for tin plate in connection with the fruit and vegetable crops in California. Makers of cold drawn steel are operating nearly full. Bar demand is of moderate proportions while plates and structural shapes are decidedly dull, with promise of distinct improvement in the latter but not in the former.

It is a debatable question whether during the next few years iron and steel prices will fluctuate with less facility or more facility than in the ten years or so before the war. There are hints suggestive of each possibility. Various predictions are encountered, one being that there will be sharp advances before the end of this year, with recessions next year, while another is that substantially the present price level will obtain for a relatively long time.

Almost all shading in finished steel products has now disappeared, except in the case of plates which are naturally weak. Several large plate producers, however, are maintaining the 2.65c price quite strictly.

After its recent burst of activity pig iron shows a relatively small movement, but prices are much steadier all along the line and many furnaces are practically sold up for the remainder of the year.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Vitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing agely hollow and angles by a healthy curved lines of health and beauty, there are a vast number of men and women who feel their excessive thinness. Thinness and weakness are often due to stunted nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the granitic phosphate known among druggists as vitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Conneltsville Drug Co., in Conneltsville and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, vitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

It is a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience writes: "Vitro-phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so energetic and robust. I should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 10, 1919.

RETURN WILL BE WELCOMED.

It detracts nothing whatever from the splendid work done by the committee in charge of the Home-Coming Celebration to say that the success of the affair, in its largest sense, was due to the presence of the returned service men.

In the early stages of the celebration there were indications that the number of soldiers, sailors and marines taking part would be rather disappointing. It was common knowledge that many of the men were averse to donning their uniforms and parading over the streets under a broiling sun. As the celebration advanced, and interest in it grew apace, and its real objects and purposes became better understood, the men who had served, both overseas and in the training camps, began more generally to realize that their neighbors and friends would be disappointed if they did not appear in uniform and take part in the parade scheduled for yesterday. Yielding to the desire that was expressed in so many ways and by so many persons the service men cheerfully and willingly turned out in numbers far in excess of expectations and, what pleased the people equally well, was that they were in uniform and in the ranks of the military section of the parade.

By this action the men in whose honor the whole affair had been arranged contributed the one thing needed to make it the greatest success of any public demonstration ever given in Fayette county. The thousands who thronged the streets were drawn here for the two-fold purpose of evidencing by their presence their earnest wish to pay a tribute of respect to the honored dead and to extend a cordial welcome to the living. Had not the soldiers and other service men paid deference to these wishes on part of the visitors in the city, great disappointment would have been felt and the supreme object of the celebration would have been less fully realized.

The thanks of the city and of its thousands of guests are due, and generously given the military marchers of yesterday. The discomforts of the march were many hence the participation in it by the boys whom the city had sought to honor was as creditable to them as was their cheerful acceptance of the hard conditions they were obliged to endure in the periods of their training and service.

While the event can never be repeated, and many of those who paraded yesterday will never again march shoulder to shoulder, the city of Connelville will long remember the splendid part they took, and how much they contributed to the success of our greatest public demonstration. For this service, no less than that rendered in behalf of our common country and humanity, Connelville will ever be glad to welcome a return of every wearer of Uncle Sam's uniform upon any and every occasion when recognition is to be given them.

Connellville very justly has claim to some unusual war honors. Not only was it the home station of the only two complete units furnished by Fayette county—Company D and the Medical Department of the 11th Infantry—and the home of hundreds in other units and branches of the service, but it was the only town of its size anywhere which had representation in every branch, department and corps of the armed forces of the United States on land, sea and in the air.

Even the weatherman did his part to make the finale of the celebration all that was hoped or expected. It could be.

The Boy Scouts certainly earned their right to a summer's outing by the faithful, willing and efficient service they rendered during the celebration.

The freedom from accidents, which resulted from the wise precautions taken by the emergency safety department, and the vigilance with which its members were on the job, together with the cooperation of the people was one of the real big things of the celebration.

You can always count on the H. C. Frick Coke company contributing a parade float that will attract the public notice and teach a valuable lesson at the same time.

Leave it to the Italians to provide the number of marchers and of beauty and color in a parade.

The Firemen's Association could have done nothing less than give handsome recognition of the faithful services of their retiring president, Fire Chief "Bully" DeBolt. He can wear the beautiful token with the satisfaction of knowing that it was worthily bestowed.

With the recent scrapping match in Europe officially closed, the argument at Toledo disposed of rather effectually, and the Fayette Field contest off the program, referees, bottle-holders and other ring-side attendants will have an opportunity to employ their talents in the "mill" which opens in Washington today.

The doughboys marched like they fought—determined to finish the job with credit to themselves, which they did.

Labor's army backed the soldiers yesterday just as it did all through the war.

UNMORTGAGED JOYS.

Blossoms of beauty for every eye.
Over each head a roof of sky;
Grass for the humblest of feet to tread
Till with kindness it seems we are suffered.

Round about us the songbirds sing
For the peasant boy or the sceptor's king;
No one can hide from another's sight
The tiniest star that shines at night.

Gold can be gathered and hidden away
From the lives of men and the light of day,
But no one can hold for one moment
The fragrance of clover
And claim all the fragrance of clover sweet.

And never a man has power to seize
As his possession the cooling breeze,
No selfish hand can take a fee
For sharing the charms of a kindly tree.

Rich is the world in a thousand ways
With joys which the lips of men may praise.

Who so great or so strong has grown
As to call the light of the sun his own?
And who can take to himself and hide
The daisies decking the countryside
Or keep for his cold and selfish ear
The song of the thrushes singing near?

Never a mortgage grim shall be
On a single acre of God's great sky.
And never shall mortal write a deed
On the life that throbs in a baby's seed.
There is much that's here for the world's delight
That defies and mocks at a tyrant's might.

He may build his fences and vault his gold,
But the joys of life he can never hold.

1,200 SERVICE MEN
LEAD GREAT PARADE
ON MILITARY DAY

tenant Harry Berkeley and wounded soldiers in automobiles brought up the rear of the military division.

First among the many floats were two of the Knights of Columbus, one a beautiful creation, with Miss Julia Coyne representing "Peace to the World" and Owen Meegan "Christopher Columbus." Miss Coyne was dressed in white and held aloft a dove. Another K. of C. float represented war activities.

Immediately following was the float bearing the designation, "Co. D," in which rode wounded soldiers.

Band Number 3 was Christner's from Mt. Olive, in which was Reed Wingrove in service uniform.

Anette Dull's pony cart with several children riding in it followed.

Carrying small Japanese parasols, the Liberty Loan teams, 100 strong, drew much attention. Team No. 5, C. W. Downe, captain was in white, with red ties. All were minus their coats.

Caputo's band, the fourth in line, led Rev. Henry DeVivo's division of Italians of which Frank D'Auria was chief marshal and Charles Schepis and Antonio Rulli assistants. The division was featured by a float representing the battleship Pennsylvania and gave to the delegation the designation "Keystone division."

Aboard it rode young people representing the Allied nations and branches of the American service.

Band Number 5 was the Italian band from Greensburg, in which were five service men. It led the Columbus Italian Fraternal society which had a float.

The society of Samato, Italian, with the Connelville Italian band, the sixth musical organization, had 62 men in line.

Grant Dull, aide, rode ahead of the float of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, a huge affair 30 feet long, featuring "Liberty."

Bands were coming in quick succession. Number 6 was Danny Mirella's from the Westinghouse air-brake works at Wheeling. It led the Sons of Italy who were in line almost 300 strong. They had as their guest General Guglielmini, of the Italian army, a speaker of the day.

The general was cheered along the route and saluted in return. Several lodges of the order were represented, including Republic.

Mrs. J. J. Dougherty rode on the float representing the "Greatest Mother in the World"—the Red Cross mother.

John A. Lowe headed a delegation of 16 parochial cadets.

The Connelville Military band led the labor division. First were about 75 members of the Carpenters' union in white suits, carrying flags. Represented in this division were the four railroad brotherhoods, members of the railroad shop federation, and others.

The labor division's float was in purple and white with a banner bearing "We Backed You in Justice." On the float was a piano, with a soloist singing numbers along the line. Twenty young women in purple and white flanked the float.

Then came the Bloomfield band. One of the best parts of the review was the H. C. Frick division in which participated employees of Davidson, Leisnering No. 1, Leisnering No. 3 and Trotter. It began with a number of floats depicting what the coal and coke workers did in winning the war.

Several floats bore labels that caught the eye. One read "We Shot the Coal While the Doughboy Shot the Hun." In another float was a representative of the former Kaiser with a streamer bearing the words, "This is the Hun the Doughboy Chased." Another float carried a gun for "Hunting Huns."

Trotter, besides its force of men, was represented with 150 boys and girls. Superintendent Benton Boyd rode with them. In this division also were members of the Hungarian Sick Benefit association with the Moneys Hungarian band and Hungarian societies, followed by the Leisnering band.

Leisnering No. 2 had a float with 50 girls. A battery of coke ovens was depicted on a float from Leisnering No. 3. "The Cradle that Rocks the World" was the label on a float from No. 3 carrying a mine car. Automobiles carrying "Pitt" fighters, pensioners and Red Cross workers.

Superintendent H. E. Mason of Davidson provided something out of the ordinary—two mine cars loaded with coal and drawn by three horses. A score of Davidson workers rode on horseback, while 60 miners marched. Superintendent Mason and others came last in an automobile.

The I. O. O. F. were represented by officers of the local lodges in automobiles, four floats representing the men of the nation, state and county in the service, one telling of the number of Odd Fellows who paid the greatest price in the war, another having to do with the founding of Odd Fellowship in Baltimore in 1819, and the last representing Meyer lodge.

Trucks carried the more than 100 orphans from the Odd Fellows home at Avalon. At Davidson avenue 32 who participated in a drill here earlier in the afternoon were unloading and marched to the Odd Fellows Temple in South Pittsburgh street where all were taken from the parade and given supper, preparatory to returning to the home. The Jeanette band led the Odd Fellows. Mount Pleasant was represented by 30 members of the cation at that place in full regalia. Fayette City lodge also had a delegation in line.

Next was the lavender and pink float which appeared in Tuesday's parade.

Connellville Lodge of Elks had a float showing a trench scene, in which rode a number of young women.

The Baltimore & Ohio band played for Magic Council No. 166 of the Jr. O. U. A. M. which was largely represented. A feature of this division was a float representing "The Little Red School House." Lodges represented besides Magic council were Dunbar, Meyer, Dawson and Vanderbilt, about 200 in all.

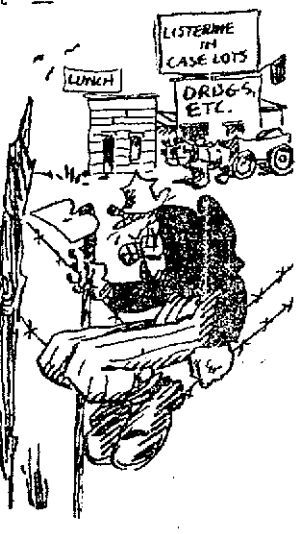

The Knights of Malta of Dawson followed, then the Patriotic Sons of America from Fairchance with their own band.

Butternore's band was at the head of the Czech-Slovak organizations of Leisnering, Trotter, Junius, Uniontown, with orchestra, Vanderbilt and other places, with several hundred marching.

The Anderson-Locks Hardware company had three floats. The Windell Airplane company showed a partially completed plane.

The Woodlake band and the O. of I. A. ended the parade.

Sale of Men's Suits

that men want now. Plain blue and black serges, standard grays, some nice striped effects, and some blue and black unfinished worsted, are what we are offering you in men's clothing. The way prices are soaring on goods by the yard, men who know would hardly expect such reasonable prices as we are now offering. Few men know just what they want in a suit until they go to the store, and as a rule a man with ordinary judgment will buy what strikes his fancy first. Our assortment is confined to staples, you can't miss it whatever selection you make, and our prices are reasonable. Of course it is taken for granted that everything in the way of prices are abnormal, and clothing is no exception. We have a very complete assortment of boys' and children's suits, in knickerbockers and long trousers, very choice lines of men's and boys' headwear and footwear. We do not want to brag or blow, it is not our style, but we do make this assertion and can substantiate it—You can save money in buying these lines at one of our stores.

BRITTON HANDS A K. O. TO AL DOTY IN SECOND ROUND

Champion Cleans Up Contender for Title in Short Order at Fayette Field.

THE START IS LONG DELAYED

Dan Morgan, Britton's Manager, Declines to Allow His Man to Go On Until Committee Produces $1,000 Guarantee; Crowd Waits 2 Hours.

Jack Britton, welterweight champion of the world, landed a knockout to Al Doty, contender for the title, in the second round of what was to have been a 10-round fight at Fayette field last evening. After a rather tame first round, in which it seemed that Doty was holding his own in fair shape, the champion opened up in the second and worried his opponent with a series of jabs in the face. In an endeavor to hit Britton, Doty lay himself open and the champion bore in with a club to the jaw that knocked Doty down and practically ended the scrap. He came up at the count of nine, but was weak and completely at the mercy of Britton. The latter refrained from battering Doty to a pulp, as he could have done, and Referee Harry Stout of Milwaukee stopped the fight.

For his four minutes' work, Britton received $1,000 and expenses, and Doty $500 and expenses. Dan Morgan, Britton's manager, refused to permit his man to go on until the $1,000 cash was produced, as specified in his contract, and as a result the fight was delayed for two hours. The gate receipts had been taken from the bank for safekeeping, but Morgan declined to produce his man until the cash was in sight. The money was secured and placed in a bag at the ringside, then the scrap began. It ended about four minutes later.

In a six-round preliminary, Johnny Donnelly of Uniontown, won from Johnny Callery of Scottsdale, on points, and Ray Pryel of Homestead, beat Dick De Sanders of Pittsburgh. The Demarco brothers, billed as the Charleoi twins, staged a fast four round exhibition.

A crowd of about 2,000 witnessed the fight.

The Magnificent Ambersons

BOOTH TARKINGTON

COPYRIGHT BY DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY

Looking at him keenly, she saw that the magnificent youth was incredibly sincere in this bit of graciousness. She shook her head in gentle wonder. "I'm just beginning to understand," she said.

"Understand what?"

"What it means to be a real Amberson in this town. Papa told me something about it before we came, but I see he didn't say half enough!"

George superbly took this all for tribute. "Did your father say he knew the family before he left here?"

"Yes. I believe he was particularly a friend of your Uncle George; and he didn't say so, but I imagine he must have known your mother very well, too. He wasn't an inventor then; he was a young lawyer. The town was smaller in those days, and I believe he was quite well known."

"I dare say. I've no doubt the family are all very glad to see him back, especially if they used to have him at the house a good deal, as he told you."

"I don't think he meant to boast of it," she said. "He spoke quite calmly," she retorted, as her partner for the next dance arrived.

She took wing away on the breeze of the waltz, and George, having stared gloomily after her for a few moments, postponed filling an engagement, and strolled round the fluttering outskirts of the dance to where his uncle, George Amberson, stood smilingly watching, under one of the parents of every girl you dance with? Perhaps it's a new fashion we old bachelors ought to take up. Is it the thing this year to—"

"Oh, go on!" said George, moving away. "I only wanted to know—" He left the sentence unfinished, and he crossed the room to where a girl sat waiting for his nobility to find time to fulfill his contract with her for this dance.

"Pardon me, wait," he muttered, as she rose brightly to meet him; and she seemed pleased that he came at all. He danced with her pertunctorily, thinking the while of Mr. Eugene Morgan and his daughter. Strangely enough his thoughts dwelt more upon the father than the daughter, though George could not possibly have given a reason—even to himself—for this disturbing preoccupation.

By a coincidence, though not an odd one, the thoughts and conversation of Mr. Eugene Morgan at this very time were concerned with George Amberson Minner, rather casually, it is true. Mr. Morgan had retired to a room set apart for smoking, on the second floor, and had found a grizzled gentleman lounging in solitary possession.

"Gene Morgan?" this person exclaimed, rising with great heartiness. "I don't believe you know me!"

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardice, are due in a large measure to abused nerves. People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind, vigorous and energetic in body, at a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-Ten every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue, if your nerves are not twice as steady as before, if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-Ten is without doubt the greatest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

THE SOISSON.

"THE BIG LITTLE PERSON"—The story of a patient, tender little woman's battle with the affliction of deafness, with Mae Murray, the popular dancer in the leading role, is being shown today. But the little screen star shows her marvelous versatility in handling the role of a girl to whom the future, by reason of the curse of deafness, looks very black, especially since her faltering roaming lover shows that he is ashamed of her affliction and is worried lest he should lose his precious voice in shouting at her. One of the leading scenes is in a school room where a couple dozen kiddies stage a very realistic school scene. In a childish rage one of the youngsters hurls in the floor the delicate instrument that connects the afflicted young teacher with the world of sound. Although the production affords this acute star nothing to give the faintest hint of her telepathic ability, it does give her the opportunity to display to a most satisfying advantage the delicate artistry demanded by her role. A selected comedy is also being shown.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE DEVIL'S TRAIL"—A World production, starring Betty Compson, is being shown today. Miss Compson and George Larkin appear as the young lovers and bring about a romantic flavor. Fred M. Valente gives an excellent portrayal of the villain, Dubec, while Claire Fabrey is splendid as Dubec's wife. The story is one of exceptional interest and the picture will please all members of the family. An interesting weekly review is also being shown. Friday and Saturday Golden presents "The Crimson Gardenia," a powerful drama. A cast of prominent players appear in this splendid feature.

A PALPITATING HEART FILLED HIM WITH ALARM

But This and Charles Myers' Other
Ills Surrendered to Nerv-Worth.

Among the "other ills" was rheumatism. Even the pains from that had to go. Said Mr. Myers to Uniontown's Nerv-Worth druggist a few days ago: "Wade H. Guyton:—For five years I have been very nervous and all run down. Stomach and digestion in very bad condition. Gas formed in my stomach and pressed against my heart and caused it to palpitate and interm. This greatly alarmed me and I was uneasy as to the result. Had severe headaches and rheumatism. I tried all kinds of so-called remedies but got no relief whatever. I saw Nerv-Worth statements in the papers from persons I know and who had been greatly benefited and I purchased one bottle of Nerv-Worth and took it as directed and am glad to say that all the ailments mentioned have gone and I feel like a new man and with all my normal strength and vigor. Sleep good, stomach and digestion fine. Good appetite and no more pains. Nerv-Worth worked wonders for me."

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison
Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenburh, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and go away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenburh has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Allenburh relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

J. C. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenburh, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenburh decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed the Conneltsville Drug Co. to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

That Empty Corner

The Place for Your NEW EDISON

Right now—as you read this under the lamp—look up from your paper and glance at that empty corner. Plenty of room for a New Edison.

Do you realize what it will mean to you? It means that there in that corner will stand stars of Grand Opera, vaudeville favorites, great instrumentalists, quartets, sextets, orchestras; in a word musical artists to suit your every mood—to give you their all. Were they there in the flesh they could give you no more.

Hundreds of Edison tone tests in which the artist sang or played in direct comparison with the New Edison have proved that it is utterly impossible to tell art from instrument. If you own a New Edison you'll have in your own home all that the ear can give you of the art of the world's greatest musicians.

Decide now to call at our store tomorrow to hear a demonstration. Payments at reasonable intervals will put the New Edison into your home at once.
